

Your Background

I grew up in Leicester before going to University in Liverpool to study Geography. I always knew I wanted to teach and used every work experience opportunity to work in primary schools and nurseries.

What brought you to Greenmount?

I relocated to Leeds in 2003 and have worked at Greenmount ever since! I started at Greenmount in my second year of teaching and now have the privilege of being the Headteacher. Greenmount is a very special place because of our amazing pupils, parents, community and our dedicated staff. We ensure all pupils make good progress, regardless of their background or any barriers they may face. We promote a love of learning through developing a growth mindset, through independence and embracing challenge, so all children become life-long learners.

What do you like about being a governor?

Being the Headteacher and Governor gives me an opportunity to work with the local and wider community in Leeds. Our children deserve the very best education and my effective relationship with the Governors ensures children leave Greenmount ready for high school and beyond, with memories that will last a lifetime. We all share the same vision for our 'Greenmountaineers' to reach their summit points through our CLIMB values.

Your hobbies or interests?

I love to travel with my family to see and experience new places. My children keep me very busy with their hobbies... I spend hours proudly watching dance shows and at the side of football and cricket pitches!
